DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of species A in the reply filed on 10/25/07 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the application claims priority to a PCT. This is not found persuasive because the species lack a single inventive concept due to the technical features are structurally different.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 13-18 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species B-D, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 10/25/07.

3. This application contains claims 13-18 drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in the reply filed on 10/25/07. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-8 and 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yabe (US 6,745,860 B2).

6. Yabe discloses a construction machine comprising a lower body 31, an upper rotating body 32 with cabin (not numbered), an engine 34 in engine room defined by a body cover forming a guide surface/engine guard 48, an air intake opening 45 offset from a heat exchanger 17 and fan 16, and an exhaust opening 41, wherein said vent surface of said exchanger is transverse and said inlet is offset laterally from said exchanger and less than 50% of the vent surface can be seen, as shown in figure 20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yabe, as applied to claim 5 above, and further in view of Nakada et al. (US 6,688,424 B1).

Yabe does not disclose a shield material with sound absorbing material. Nakada et al. does disclose a construction machine with intake duct having shield with sound absorbing material 11, as shown in figures 3 and 4. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have provided the intake of Yabe with the sound shield of Nakada et al. in order to absorb sound and protect the radiator.
